

ANATOMY IDIOMS!

Convert these common idioms by taking the medical term and changing it into terms that would turn it into a commonly used phrase.

1. John not only cooks, but he cleans the kitchen too! He's a male individual after my own cardiac organ.
_____
2. Jenny was glad that she knew the manager at the job she was applying for because it really helped her have a metatarsal grouping wedged in the entrance.
_____
3. Geez. Have you seen gas prices lately? They are basically charging a femur and a humerus.
_____
4. Ellen wouldn't even talk to me. She was giving me the freezing gleno-humeral joint.
_____
5. Boy that KFC chicken was delicious! It was phalange tongue brushing high-quality.
_____
6. Joe dunked the ball over Frank and yelled, "in yo frontal, maxilla and mandible region!"
_____
7. After tasting the pie Sheila made for him, Eric gave it a big pollux skyward.
_____
8. After receiving some bad news, Sarah was reminded to keep her mandible superiorly lifted.
_____
9. After Bobby talked smack about Joey's mama, he threatened to give him a distal metacarpal hoagie.
_____
10. Right before going on stage, Jill yelled to Amy, "fracture a femur!".
_____

ANSWER SHEET

1. A man after my own heart
2. Foot in the door
3. Arm and a leg
4. Cold shoulder
5. Finger licking good
6. In yo face!
7. Thumbs up
8. Chin up
9. Knuckle sandwich
10. Break a leg!